SITSS00069 Food Safety Supervision Skill Set

Introduction

Equality Education is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO number 46111) registered with the Australian Skills Quality Authority. Equality Education encourages students from under-represented groups (including people with a disability and First Nations people) to apply for enrolment in our courses. Equality Education is committed to fostering an inclusive and culturally safe learning environment where all students can engage fully in their educational journey. Equality Education facilities are fully accessible for those with physical disabilities. Equality Education is proud to offer training in the SITSS00069 Food Safety Supervision Skill Set, compiled of the nationally recognised units SITXFSA005 Use hygienic practices for food safety and SITXFSA006 Participate in safe food handling practices.

Course Description

This course provides students with the skills and knowledge to hold a Food Safety Supervisor certificate, essential for supervising the safe production and service of food. It teaches students to implement hygienic food safety practices and engage in safe food handling procedures. The course is designed for anyone involved in food handling, including cooks, chefs, caterers, kitchen stewards, staff in bars and food and beverage services. In Queensland, it is a legal requirement for every food-related business to employ a certified Food Safety Supervisor.

Mode of Delivery

The program is trainer led, delivered face-to-face in a classroom setting combined with skills practice assessment and approximately 8 hours of pre-course online learning. 4 students or less is delivered over 1 day. 5 or more students is delivered over 2 days.

Assessment

The assessment requires students to complete a range of multiple choice questions and responses to case studies, where they will then demonstrate their applied knowledge and skills during a practical assessment and the trainer will conduct and complete observation checklists.

Program Duration and Location

The program is delivered over 1 day for 4 students or less, or 2 days for 5 or more students. Training will be conducted at Equality Educations office located at 2/276 Charters Towers Road, Hermit Park QLD 4812. Equality Education is able to support students that need additional time. Alternatively, students who have pre-existing skills and knowledge may be able to complete the course in a shorter duration. If students do not attend the allocated days for the knowledge assessment and practical component, they will be invoiced a rescheduling fee which can be found in the Schedule of Fees and Charges.

National recognition

On successfully completing the training and assessment, a statement of attainment will be issued for the following 2 units:

- SITXFSA005 Use hygienic practices for food safety
- SITXFSA006 Participate in safe food handling practices

Equality Education is responsible for the quality of the training and assessment being delivered in this program and for the issuance of any AQF certificates.

Dress and Equipment

Students are required to present to Equality Educations office located at 2/276 Charters Towers Road, Hermit Park QLD 4812 in appropriate uniform attire suitable for participation in practical activities in a workplace training setting, including fully enclosed non-slip shoes. Students will require basic stationery and a notebook according to their own study preferences during face-to-face training sessions. Access to a computer which has internet connection, emails, Microsoft word and the free version of Adobe Acrobat Reader DC is mandatory to allow students to undertake the pre-course online learning prior to the face-to-face sessions. Laptops are available for students to complete their course in Equality Educations office.

Entry requirements

There are no specified entry requirements for these units of competency. Noting this, Equality Education requires persons who undertake this course to:

- Be aged 13 years or over.
- Able to commit to the course duration and time commitment. Face-to-face sessions will be held on set dates which will be communicated within your enrolment enquiry.
- Have suitable language, literacy, numeracy proficiency and digital literacy skills to read and comprehend learning materials.
- Photo identification is required to be sighted prior to course commencement.

Please note. Equality Education will engage with persons expressing interest in enrolment to discuss their language, literacy, numeracy proficiency and digital literacy skills. Equality Education can provide additional learning support to students who require basic assistance. For students who have more fundamental support needs, Equality Education can refer these students to a specialist language, literacy and numeracy development provider who can assist students to improve their language, literacy, numeracy proficiency and digital literacy skills to enable them to suitably commence the course.
